

Positive Futures Programme

Developed to help 15-24 year olds not currently in education, employment or training

New Programme

PET-Xi's barrier breaking 'Positive Futures' programme has been developed to help 15-24 year olds not currently in education, employment or training.

We provide a high level of personal attention, mentoring and motivational support. Through our personal mentoring approach and comprehensive programme, they have the opportunity to gain qualifications and employability skills with the overall aim of helping them to progress into a positive destination.

Participants in the programme will receive support in important areas such as how to go about applying for a job, CV and cover-letter writing and perfecting their interview skills, as well as help with building confidence and skills for work. We provide a positive environment to learn and develop.
